Experience

SENIOR INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGNER, COMMERCETOOLS: 2022 - PRESENT

- Led the strategic design and implementation of a firmwide digital learning platform from concept to deployment, delivering scalable learning solutions that upskilled both technical and business users across a global digital commerce organization.
- Pioneered the integration of Generative AI across the full learning design lifecycle (ADDIE framework), developing innovative prompt engineering systems that increased content development efficiency and quality by 60%. Championed AI adoption through peer coaching and mentorship, positioning the organization at the forefront of AI-enabled learning.
- Partnered with cross-functional senior stakeholders including VPs, product/engineering managers, software developers, and UX designers to diagnose complex organizational learning needs and translate them into high-impact, learner-centric solutions aligned with business objectives.
- Drove end-to-end learning program delivery using Agile project management methodologies, ensuring iterative, data-informed design processes that balanced innovation with practical implementation in a fast-paced, matrixed environment.
- Designed and executed contemporary learning experiences leveraging modern learning technologies, including interactive video, branching scenarios, and multimedia content, demonstrating expertise in UX design principles and learner experience optimization.
- Successfully operated in a fully remote capacity within a multinational organization, collaborating effectively across time zones and cultures to deliver consistent, world-class learning outcomes.

CO-FOUNDER AND LEAD LEARNING DESIGNER, 3 STEPS AWAY: 2019 - 2022

- Co-founded and scaled a purpose-driven learning enterprise from concept to market delivery, leading the strategic vision, product development, and commercialization of social justice education programs for the Australian market. Demonstrated entrepreneurial leadership and business acumen in building a sustainable learning solutions company.
- Led end-to-end learning strategy design and content development for flagship programs, creating innovative, scalable learning solutions that balanced educational impact with commercial viability. Drove the creative vision and instructional design for all core learning assets across multiple modalities.
- Designed and deployed contemporary blended learning experiences integrating asynchronous digital content (storyboards, multimedia assets, podcasts, video) with synchronous facilitation, demonstrating expertise in learner-centered design, modern learning technologies, and multimodal content development.
- Built and maintained strategic relationships with diverse senior stakeholders including legal professionals, financial advisors, investors, educational leaders, and corporate executives. Successfully navigated complex stakeholder environments to secure buy-in, investment, and partnership opportunities critical to business growth.
- Demonstrated data-driven decision-making and ROI mindset in a resource-constrained startup environment, balancing innovation with practical implementation while building sustainable learning products over a 3-year period.
